In keeping with our policy of “doing what needs to be done”, we have branched out into South Africa. Locally we are humming on new projects as we have grown in the fields of education, empowerment and ecological awareness.

It is my wish that we turn this organisation into a movement. Let us use the forthcoming year to consolidate and move forward, keeping in mind at all times that we are here solely and only for the beneficiaries of our projects.

- Highlights were functions attended and festivals celebrated.

- The triweekly medical clinic offers general medical care for approximately 100 patients a month. A highlight was the eye camp/clinic held on 1st May 2014 in conjunction with Sankara Eye Hospital.

MEDICAL CLINIC: PULAKESHINAGAR
INTERSECTION OF M.M. ROAD AND TANNERY ROAD

- The biweekly medical clinic provides general and specialised care for the residents of Pulakeshinagar, a highly congested urban slum, including treatment, medicines and medical tests. Approximately 80 patients are treated monthly.

- Patients requiring specialised treatment and surgeries are referred to hospitals where their treatment is subsidised or free of cost.

- There is increased awareness of healthcare, regular checkups, the importance of medication and the role of diet in the treatment of diabetes.

- Volunteers participate in animal awareness programmes.

- A highlight was the release of the animals from African Moonlight Circus. Volunteers inspected the circus animals at Kudhal, Maharashtra, on the 10th and 12th of March 2014 and reported their finding of mistreatment to the Animal Welfare Board of India (AWBI). On 25th April 2014, the AWBI consequently cancelled the African Moonlight Circus’s animal registration licence. A joint effort with other NGOs ensured that the animals received the urgent medical care needed and were rehabilitated and rehomed.

Just as a hand can perform any task, so can a volunteer.
We keep our homes clean because we live in there. Let us keep the world clean as we live in it too.

CHENNAI PROJECTS

AFFORESTATION

• 5,000 saplings of mixed forest species were donated as part of the Greening of Chennai Programme for planting along city roads and at schools, homes for the aged and panchayat unions (local government bodies). As Chennai is a water-starved city, saplings were planted at the onset of the monsoon period to take advantage of the monsoon rainfall.

• Samarpan’s Redhills project site in Thiruvallur District, which showcases environmental, ecological and sustainable global-first initiatives, has become a pride of place for local panchayat unions. Imbibed with an awareness of the need for trees, local panchayat unions now take charge of the greening programmes to benefit villages in their areas.

• Volunteers continue to monitor the planting, care and nurturing of saplings, which have been donated as part of Samarpan’s greening programme.

• The Hon. Mayor of Chennai acclaimed Samarpan’s greening policy of nurturing saplings in grow bags until they are fully grown, eliminating the cost of tree guards, ensuring saplings can withstand damage caused by grazing cattle and creating immediate green cover.

• In the last quarter of 2014, effective green nutrients and organic composting transformed a barren area on Samarpan’s project site into a green belt.

LOW COST CONSTRUCTION/ WASTE MANAGEMENT/ RECYCLING

SARATHU KANAGAI NAGAR VILLAGE, PAMMADUKULAM PANCHAYAT, AMBATTUR TALUK, RED HILLS, THIRUVALLUR DISTRICT

• Fly-ash bricks were moulded at Samarpan’s project site and were used to construct an eco-friendly lavatory facility.

• 20,000 PET bottle bricks were filled with waste mud between April and June 2014 in order to construct a prototype structure for conducting seismic tests at the CSIR – Structural Engineering Research Centre, India’s premier structural and research laboratory, Tharamani, Chennai.

ECOLOGICAL, ENVIRONMENTAL AND SUSTAINABILITY PROGRAMMES

• In August 2014, the 4m x 4m reinforced cement concrete (RCC) slab was precast at the CSIR laboratory. Over a hundred steel pipes were precisely slotted into grooves for bolting onto the shake table. The slab was then cured and transported into the seismic laboratory via two overhead cranes.

• Construction of the 3m x 3m PET bottle and Nylon-6 fishnet structure commenced on 12th of August 2014 and was completed within 1 week. PET bottle bricks replaced conventional baked bricks, Nylon-6 fishnet replaced steel in the RCC roof slab and the lintels were constructed with plain cement concrete (PCC) and Nylon-6 fishnet, forming one homogeneous structure and adding further strength to the building.

• On 29th September 2014, the structure was subjected to 18 simulated earthquakes on the shake table. The seismic tests proved its ability to withstand earthquakes simulated up to 9.8 on the Richter scale.

ECOLOGICAL, ENVIRONMENTAL AND SUSTAINABILITY PROGRAMMES

• There has been a tremendous response from educational institutions to the ‘outdoor laboratory’ that has been set up on Samarpan’s project site. The laboratory enables students to have a hands-on experience of environmental sciences including
  • raising forest nurseries and mangroves
  • organic kitchen gardens
  • poultry farming
  • organic composting
  • production of green nutrients
  • PET bottle and Nylon-6 fishnet construction.

• Presentations and workshops included:
  • “Bottle bricks creating wonders towards achieving sustainable construction and industrial solutions” in collaboration with Design Club students of Sathyabama University. The workshop focused on preventive measures to restore our environment from degradation with a focus on afforestation, waste management, health care and urban development.
CHENNAI PROJECTS

• “Empowering youth to pursue universal peace and co-existence” organised by Shabnam Resources. The workshop focused on the environment, waste management and the need to sustain nature.

• “Reduce, reuse and recycle” organised by the Health and Ecology Department of International Women’s Association, Chennai. The workshop focused on waste management and mosquito eradication.

• A visit to Samarpan’s project site by the YWCA Committee and follow up visit with “Eco-friendly practices for a zero waste zone” presented to YWCA.

• “Importance of tree planting, recycling and reuse of the resources” organised by YWCA Public Affairs and Social Issues Department (PASI) at Sivakasi Hindu Nadar Secondary School.

• “Motivation” organised by Department of Tourism, Anna Adarsh College for Women and follow up visit to Samarpan’s project site.

• “Waste management and its integration in normal urban life” organised by Vellore Institute of Technology.

• National Workshop on Biotechnology Innovation organised by the Biotechnology and Chemistry Departments of Women’s Christian College.

• “Waste Management” organised by the National Institute of Fashion Technology followed by a visit to Samarpan’s project site.

THE RETURN OF THE MANGROVES TO CHENNAI

• Volunteers presented Samarpan’s solution for the restoration of the Adyar Estuary at an open public forum organised by the Chennai River Restoration Trust (CRRT) to discuss greening and the restoration of mangroves. The CRRT team consequently visited Samarpan’s project site to assess the potential for obtaining sufficient forest and mangrove saplings. Land preparation of the Adyar Estuary is in progress.

• Due to Chennai’s extensive need for forest and mangrove saplings, Samarpan has expanded its mangrove nursery and is identifying new sources of seeds and saplings.

• Awareness programmes for the youth, the general public and fishermen on the need for mangroves in a coastal environment have resulted in institutions such as Women’s Christian College, Sathyabham University, and corporate bodies actively supporting and promoting the reintroduction of mangroves.

MOSQUITO ERADICATION

• Samarpan has taken on an advisory role, imparting the methodology used for successfully eradicating mosquitoes using the herbal pesticide, Pyrethrum. This method is much sought after by institutions, local welfare communities and the general public.

SOLUTIONS TO CHENNAI’S FRESH WATER PROBLEM

• Feedback from government and private sources indicates that Samarpan’s solutions that were presented to the civic body and general public are being implemented. Tenders have been requested for mini sewage treatment plants on the city’s waterways as a solution to the illegal inflow of waste; tenders have been requested for rainwater harvesting on city roads.

Do not point out a fault unless you have a solution to offer.
Waiting for change is futile. Bring about change yourself.

CHENNAI PROJECTS

REDHILLS PROJECT SITE RELOCATES

- On 20th October 2014, a potential setback confronted Chennai operations when it was required to relocate the Redhills project site as the lessor had decided to sell the farm.

ORGANIC FARMING AND COMPOSTING AND POULTRY FARMING

- An organic crop of 25 vegetables and fruit (including bananas) are fed with organic manure and green nutrients produced on site and are distributed regularly to the needy.
- A mini shredder unit and a bush cutter were acquired to enhance the shredding process for rapid decomposition for organic composting.
- The poultry unit produces nitrogen-rich manure and eggs, which are distributed to the needy.
- Public interest has resulted in skills training in methodologies developed at the project site.

GREEN NUTRIENTS

- The programme has expanded to produce sufficient micro- and macronutrients for the forest nursery, the mangroves and organic farming.
- Demonstration units have been set up for skills training.

AWARDS, EVENTS AND AFFILIATIONS

- Projects coordinator, Romaine San Francesco, was conferred the Rose of Ridwan award for achievement in The Field of Environment at the 11th Annual Award Ceremony on 1st May 2014 by the Bahai’ualah Spiritual Assembly, Chennai.
- Romaine San Francesco attended the centenary celebrations of the Women’s Christian College (WCC) in July 2014. The WCC pledged support for future slum development, village adoption programmes and restoration of mangroves.

The greatest gift man can give is security.

NEW DELHI PROJECTS

CHILDREN’S HOMES: MAHARANI BAGH AND NEW FRIENDS COLONY

- The children are cared for by volunteers and a team of dedicated staff.
- All facilities and amenities found in a financially secure and comfortable family home are provided, including formal education, nutritious meals, clothing, medical care provided by a paediatrician and specialists where necessary and a safe and secure environment.

- We have seen transformation in the children and a positive approach to life, for example:
  - one child who had run away from 6 homes in the past and had an issue with lying is now scrupulously honest and has accepted and adopted the home and other children as her own;
  - another child, rescued from struggling for daily existence on the streets and angry at life, is now much calmer and helps settle new children into the home with his warm and affectionate nature;
  - another child, physically abused, informed volunteers that that chapter in her life was closed and that she had found inner strength to face the future without apprehension and fear of the past.
- Academic Highlights
  • The children are performing well in academics. They were selected to take part in the All India Olympiad Mathematics, Computer and English Aptitude Tests, in which all children performed well and are certificate holders. One junior school child competed against much older children in a computer drawing competition and won!
- Art and Craft Highlights
  • The children learned embroidery and embroidered handkerchiefs and cushion covers with incredible neatness and accuracy.
  • A gift by donors introduced the children to paper quilling and weaving loom bands. They celebrated Friendship Day by making friendship bands and used their quilling skills in their school projects and in making cards.
- Field Trips and Recreational Highlights
  • Highlights included breakfast at Delhi’s iconic eating area “Chandni Chowk”, a historical guided tour of the Red Fort and a trip to Delhi Zoo, along with movies and a special day for the children hosted by a 5-star hotel, with fun activities, a buffet and a gift for each child. The children chose to re-distribute these gifts to children begging at a traffic intersection in an endeavor to spread the happiness they had experienced at the hotel.

The school and tuition centre provides a morning school, a tuition centre, adult education and a crèche.

- Over the past year, most of the children have stopped begging on the streets and are regularly attending school.

- Our greatest achievement this year has been enrolling 64 students into mainstream schools. They have gone from having no education to being able to keep up in a mainstream school.

WOMEN’S SHELTER: REGARPURA

- Women and their children arrive at the shelter abandoned and emotionally traumatised. The trauma they have suffered often results in them losing their dreams and their joy of living.

- They come from diverse backgrounds - some are rape victims, unwed teen mothers, women who had been forced into sex trafficking, women whose husbands have remarried and older women rejected by their families.

- Field trips and celebrations of festivals gave much joy to the women and children, in particular a trip to Chattarpur Temple, and a bonfire night with music and a festive meal.

INJUSTICE OF JUSTICE: TIHAR JAIL

- When the breadwinner of a family is incarcerated, his or her family suffers as a result, becoming innocent victims in the course of justice. It is this ‘injustice of justice’ along with the plight of inmates that we are striving to address.
- We are working to transform the lives of inmates and their families by providing for their immediate needs and, ultimately, by empowering them to lead self-sustaining, independent lives.

PROGRAMME FOR PRISONERS

- The programme caters to 4 central jails in Tihar.
- Weekly counselling and healing for inmates is provided.
- Psychological and specialised medical care are organised. A highlight was the eye camp/clinic in Jail No. 4 for 250 inmates. The inmates received a consultation and medicines and spectacles as required.
- Collaboration with Asha Foundation has enabled us to expand the empowerment programme.
- A highlight was the annual inter-jail quiz competition in Jail No. 2. Over 300 inmates participated and winners received prize money and awards. Performances from inmates included singing, dancing and reciting poems.

PROGRAMME FOR PRISONERS’ FAMILIES AND DISADVANTAGED FAMILIES

- Support is provided for 100 families comprised of families of inmates and families where there is no breadwinner, or the breadwinner is no longer able to earn due to physical or other disabilities.
- Volunteers are a surrogate family and provide a support structure for the families, including nutritional, medical, financial, educational and emotional support.
- Children have benefited from the educational support, such as funding of tuition and school fees and volunteers personally checking students’ school and tuition work to ensure that they stay on track.
- Vocational training has enabled women to become self-sustained.
- A highlight was the carnival on 11th January 2015. The families enjoyed a nutritious meal, a puppet show, games and an enthusiastic guitar performance by one of the children of the families. The carnival was a real treat for these families who struggle to make ends meet.
- Families have grown in confidence and strength, for example:
  - Anita was barely making ends meet, her husband had a severe accident and she was struggling to care for her daughter. Volunteers supported them through counselling, by funding her husband’s medical treatment and by providing for their daughter. Today the husband has recovered and has found employment, Anita has attended vocational training, thereby empowering herself, and Risha is a healthy, flourishing child.
  - After counselling and providing support to one of the families’ sons, Krishna, volunteers encouraged him to follow his passion, guitar, and he started beginners’ lessons. He has been selected for the Young Men’s Christian Association, a music school in Delhi, as they saw his confidence and dedication.
  - Poonam, a widow with 3 children, asked for a loan to start a small business. Not only did she return the loan timeously, she also made a profit and has empowered herself and become independent.
Ignorance is a disease. Eradicate it.

GOA PROJECTS

SUPPORT FOR ORPHANAGES AND CHILDREN’S HOMES

- Children with special needs are enrolled into the best schools in Goa.

- Children interested in further education or vocational training are supported.

- Children are taken on outings such as trips to the beach. On one such occasion, a highlight for volunteers was treating the children to all varieties of chaat (a common street food). On seeing their blank expressions after being given the menu, the volunteers realised that these children had never before eaten chaat.

- The annual children’s party for all beneficiaries was a day full of fun and entertainment including a wide range of games, innovative arts and crafts, a DJ, a clown, a bouncing castle, and snacks, drinks, prizes and gifts.

TUITION CENTRE: CHIMBEL

CHIMBEL SLUM

- Due to the struggle for survival for daily existence in the slum, education has never been a priority.

- The tuition centre provides a daily nutritious meal, books and stationery, counseling for students and parents, legal assistance, special care for children with special needs, medical care and healing.

- Students have learned English from our volunteers, which is rarely spoken in the slum, and the daily nutritious meal and medical care has improved the physical health of the children greatly.

- Volunteers celebrate their birthdays with the students with music, games, snacks and fun-filled days of celebration.
Nutrition goes hand in hand with education to make for illumination.

Volunteers worked with approximately 60 farmers on Bali Island from 12th February 2014, to train them to work as construction-site labourers.

The farmers-turned-labourers finished the construction of Samarpan Charitable Hospital in eight months, which will cater to the medical needs of the 90,000 inhabitants of Bali and its surrounding islands.

A highlight was the overwhelming goodness of a daily wage carpenter who volunteered to sponsor a day’s tea and snacks for the labourers. He was amazed that we were giving free tea and snacks to the labourers because they put in extra hours of work without demanding to be paid overtime during the casting of the roof for the hospital.

The hospital was inaugurated on 15th October 2014. The Outpatients’ Department (OPD) opened its doors to the public on 12th November 2014, treating approximately 100 patients three times a week.

Some of the same labourers have been employed in the hospital now, as non-medical staff, and are employed as cooks, laundrymen, janitors and ward boys. It is an incredible achievement for them to have made the journey from being daily wage labourers to hospital staff.

Medical clinics/camps are run bi-monthly for the residents of Ram Gopalpur, near Godkhali.

Villagers of all ages with various medical conditions attend the clinics.

Individual medical cases are attended to and treatment is provided.

Arrangements are made for patients needing specialised medical care and surgery.
